How do I love thee.....

Please find below guidelines as to how you can support an existing relationship or establish a new one.

First up are some helpful hints as to how to be supportive according to type (Manifestor/Generator/Manifesting Generator/Projector/Reflector). It is important to note in this section that 50% of the population have emotional authority no matter what their type (except for Reflectors as they all have Lunar Authority). People with Emotional Authority need to understand that they will have emotional highs and lows, of which there is no control over and it isn't something that needs to be fixed. Be aware of the cycle and know that it will pass.

The second part of this document goes into the Profiles and expands on the ways that relationships can be established and the workings of the relationship once you are in one.

\**Please note some sites display the Type and Authority differently. Some list the Authority separately (Emotional, Sacral, Splenic, Ego, Self Projected and Lunar) others have it in the title of the Type e.g. Emotional Generator. The term Pure Generator means Sacral Authority.*

Manifestors

The correct way to enter a relationship if you are a Manifestor – is to be the one that initiates it.

How to be supportive once you are in a relationship with a Manifestor:

- Do not interrupt them when they are busy
- Do not take offence when they get angry at you for interrupting them
- Understand that they don't NEED you. Note this does not mean that they don't love you or want to be with you.
- Understand their energy and need for downtime
- They may not feel like being touched at certain times; it is nothing personal
- Give them freedom
- They may need to sleep alone
- Don't tell them what to do
- They have inconsistent sexual energy
- Trust them

Generators

The correct way to enter a relationship if you are a Generator – is to wait to respond.

How to be supportive once you are in a relationship with a Generator:

- They will get frustrated, don't take it personally. Remind them that frustration happens just before the next step comes to them and they just need to be patient and wait for that to show up.
- Understand the importance of work to them.
- Help them get out of their head and ask them how they feel about things.
- Asks them yes/no questions and be ok with a sound as a response rather than a spoken yes/no
- Trust and respect their sacral response
- They have consistent sexual energy
- Support and encourage their need for daily exercise

Manifesting Generators

The correct way to enter a relationship if you are a Manifesting Generator – is to wait to respond.

How to be supportive once you are in a relationship with a Manifesting Generator:

- If you are not a Manifesting Generator yourself, do not try to keep up with them and give them the freedom to pursue all of the activities that their high-speed energy motivates them to do
- Allow them to multitask; do not try to convince them to do one thing at a time
- Frustration/anger/impatience is part of their learning/mastery process so do not take any of it personally
- Trust and respect their sacral response
- Support and encourage their need for daily exercise
- Ask them yes / no questions
- Don't tell them what to do
- They have consistent sexual energy
- Trust them

Reflectors

The correct way to enter a relationship if you are a Reflector – wait for a Lunar Cycle to enable you to completely feel your sensations.

How to be supportive once you are in a relationship with a Reflector:

- Give them space and time to feel through their process
- Do not try to change them; they are very unique beings that have a very important role in humanity
- Honour their decision-making process and the time that it takes
- Listen to them and refrain from the need to give your opinion, they just need to be heard
- Understand that they may be somewhat dependent on you energetically
- Know that they will be a reflection of you and they will mirror the truth of who you are
- Encourage and support daily energy clearing practices
- They have inconsistent sexual energy
- Be supportive of their need for downtime and solitude

Projectors

The correct way to enter a relationship if you are a Projector – wait for an invitation.

How to be supportive once you are in a relationship with a Projector:

- Understand that their intention is to be helpful
- Acknowledge that they are inherently wise and can provide valuable input
- Recognise that their energy operates best when invited, so ask their opinion or guidance
- Invite them to share ideas
- Deliberately give them your undivided attention and energy
- Be a good listener, they need to be able to express their thoughts and ideas uninterrupted.
- Support their need for daily downtime
- Value their insights and advice
- They have inconsistent sexual energy
- May need to sleep alone.

The Profiles

Here is a brief introduction before we get into the actual profiles:

Everyone has 2 numbers in their profile. The first number is what frames the personality and the second is what lies in the subconscious.

Some general characteristics of these numbers in their relationships are:

1's need to know that a relationship has strong foundations

2's will need to be called out to join a relationship

3's are very much trial and error in relationships and are quick to end the relationship

4's need to be friends first. Also be aware that they will need to have another relationship/job/opportunity before they end the one they are in unless they have decided they need time alone.

5's are the seducers. This seductive energy is not intentional but projected energy so profiles with a 5 need to be aware that others may think they are seducing them even if not the intention.

6's should not enter any long-term commitment till after their first Saturn Return (around the age of 28).

They love new experiences with sex being high on their priority list.

1 – 3

If you are a 1-3 you will be prone to “love at first sight.” You are more likely to just bump into a lover rather than meet them through friends. You will enjoy pursuing or being pursued. Once the thrill of the chase is over there will be a deep examination of the foundations of the relationship. This will take some time and you will not feel settled in the relationship until you are sure. You will not hesitate to end the relationship if you decide that the foundations are not strong. If you are in a relationship with a 1-3 give them room and time to be alone, it is beneficial for a 1-3 to sleep alone as this reinvigorates the relationship. It is also important that a 1-3 has the capacity to support themselves and they will not feel comfortable being financially dependent on another.

1 – 4

The most important point for a 1-4 is to be friends prior to establishing an intimate relationship. It is OK to do this intentionally, if you are attracted to someone, you can deliberately be friends first with the knowledge that you are intending to turn it into something more down the track. It is important to be aware that you should still only share with your friends information that you are comfortable with a lover knowing. Anyone with a 4 in their profile needs to be cautious about what they say to others as it has a way of getting turned back on them. It is very important to the 1-4 that their partner is interested in what they have to share. 1-4's are very passionate about their opinions and interests and it is important that they are able to share and be heard.

2 – 4

If you have a 2 – 4 profile you will have a tendency to want to be left alone and shyness can be a character trait. You need to be aware that your energy will spark the desire in another, and they will need to be persistent in asking you out. They will be in your friendship circle, so you need to trust and take some chances and say yes to some invitations. Once you enter a relationship you have a great capacity to develop a very deep and loving connection.

2 - 5

Being a 2 – 5 can be a bit confusing at times as your personality wants to be left alone but your subconscious is a seducer. It will take someone quite bold to call you out and pursue you but that is what needs to happen. It will more likely than not be a stranger so if you are wanting to be in a relationship you need to get out there and go somewhere where you can meet new people. You also need to take a chance and open yourself up to the option of saying yes to the invitations.

3 – 5

Relationships may literally bump into you. 3 -5's may have several relationships before they find the right one as they like to experiment and try things out but are very quick to break the bonds at the first sign of it not working. 3-5's have a tendency to run away when things are not going great, they may be very pessimistic and expect the worst. They are very prone to feeling overwhelmed and do not like the thought that someone has power over them. Taking some time to be alone and sleeping alone can help avoid these feelings of overwhelm.

3 – 6

Anyone with a 6 in their profile should not make any long-term relationship decisions until they have passed their first Saturn Return (which occurs around 28 years of age). Up to that age, everything is just in the experimental phase and can change quite quickly. 3 -6's will have a strong desire for a life partner. Once they have gone through their Saturn Return, they will be able to make better decisions and have learnt a great deal from their earlier experimentation. From the ages of 28 to 50 (depending on your first Saturn Return and your first Chiron Return) a 3-6 can become quite aloof and disassociated from life. They will be quite observant of relationships and have good insights as to what will work. After their Chiron Return they will become very much more engaged in life and relationships.

4 – 1

4-1's are the most friendly profile, they have very fixed views and opinions and can be quite stubborn. If you do not agree with those opinions, they will disappear from your life. As with the other 4 profiles they must be friends first before they can have an intimate relationship. They will not accept a partner unless they feel that the other is accepting of their truths. They will be very active in pursuing relationships. Deep bonds can be formed through nurturing and nourishing a 4-1. They will not forget who has supported them and will be loyal and keen to return the favour.

4 – 6

A 4-6 is dynamically involved in making friendships, they know how to meet people and relate to them and are very comfortable around other people. It is from these friendships that intimate relationships will form. Prior to their Saturn Return (around 28 years of age) they will doubt their ability to maintain a relationship. They will want perfection and are unsure if anyone can fulfill that. Between the ages of 28 and 50 they will be very observant of relationships and be figuring out what works and what doesn't. After the age of 50 they will be very certain about what they want in a relationship/partner and be ready and able to be in a deep committed relationship.

5 – 1

If you are a 5-1 and you can't seduce your potential lover, they are not the right lover. You know what you want and you will go out and get it. Be aware that you have the potential to be paranoid when it comes to trusting a partner. 5-1's need to be financially secure so they can feel safe in life. They are very practical and will only enter a relationship if it is practical to do so. Attractiveness is important to them and is a form of creativity. It is important to note that others will see you as a seducer, even though that is not your intention at all, so be aware if you are in a position of authority or power that that perception is not taken the wrong way.

5 – 2

As with the 5-1 profile, 5-2's are very seductive and will pull people towards them, but unlike the 5-1 they will be very reluctant to enter a relationship as they would rather be left alone. They are paranoid that there is something wrong with them and that this will be exposed once they are in a relationship. As they are self-motivators it is only them that can convince themselves that it is OK to enter a relationship. If you try to push them, they will resist.

6 – 2

Of all of the 6 profiles, during the phase after the first Saturn Return, the 6-1's are the most aloof and really do withdraw from life. Their sexuality is very shy and will need the other to be bold and break down their barriers.

Trust will be essential for them to stay in a relationship and they will need to see that you are reliable and solid. They are quite OK with having an ordinary life and are very accepting of the choices that they have made. They are the most likely of all profiles to stay in an unfulfilling marriage, however this may all change after their Chiron Return as they have to re-engage and reassess their life.

6 – 3

Of all the 6 profiles a 6-3 has the most difficult early life. They are the embodiment of chaos and potential. They are very courageous and can sustain the will to keep going and see things through to the end. This gives them great wisdom as they have experienced so much. They need a great deal of support, which can be given by the way of honouring their wisdom. Potential partners will literally bump into them. They are always up for an experience, with sex being a focus. They will through their wisdom make a conscious decision if they will enter into a relationship or not.
